

MATCH4ZACK

Zack is twenty years old and was recently diagnosed with leukemia. He is in need of a bone marrow transplant and YOU might be a match.

Zack and his extended family are long time community residents and have been active in many school, shul and community-wide activities. Zack attended HAFTR, HALB, DRS, Yeshivat Ha'Kotel in Israel and is now a student at Yeshiva University.

Since tissue type is inherited, Zack's best chance of finding a genetically matched donor lies with those of Jewish ancestry. It takes just 30 seconds to swab the inside of your cheek – YOU can make a difference for Zack and other potential recipients.
